Consider the women who take on maternal roles for Lesley.

Crowell takes you into the life of a London teen-aged girl struggling to survive life in support facilities.

You can't just sit on a comfy chair and read it with a million other things in you.

Enhanced descriptions from Syndetics: On the surface, sixteen-year-old Lesley Holloway is just another bright new student at Hawthorn Hill, a posh all-girls prep school north of London. We were unable to find this edition in any bookshop we are able to search. What she has to fight for next will break your heart—just as it should—because what we tell females about themselves is a story that can indeed make or break .
