It's quite interesting to see a Malaysian page that caters to a niche crowd, namely those in the medical field, by turning daily issues and struggles faced by healthcare staffs into satirical comics. She's a fully-realised kid, prone to annoying her parents and going off in a huff and being irritated by a neighbouring geek. Stone Soup begins to be served.

Igiveyoustep-by-stepinstructions on how to create not just human cartoon characters but also animals. Kelly used the way his characters delivered their lines to convey as much expression as the words themselves. He always tries to do the right thing, but it's not always easy for him, and Pixar's genius lies in showing that even such a Dudley Do-Righter sometimes wishes he could take the easier road.
